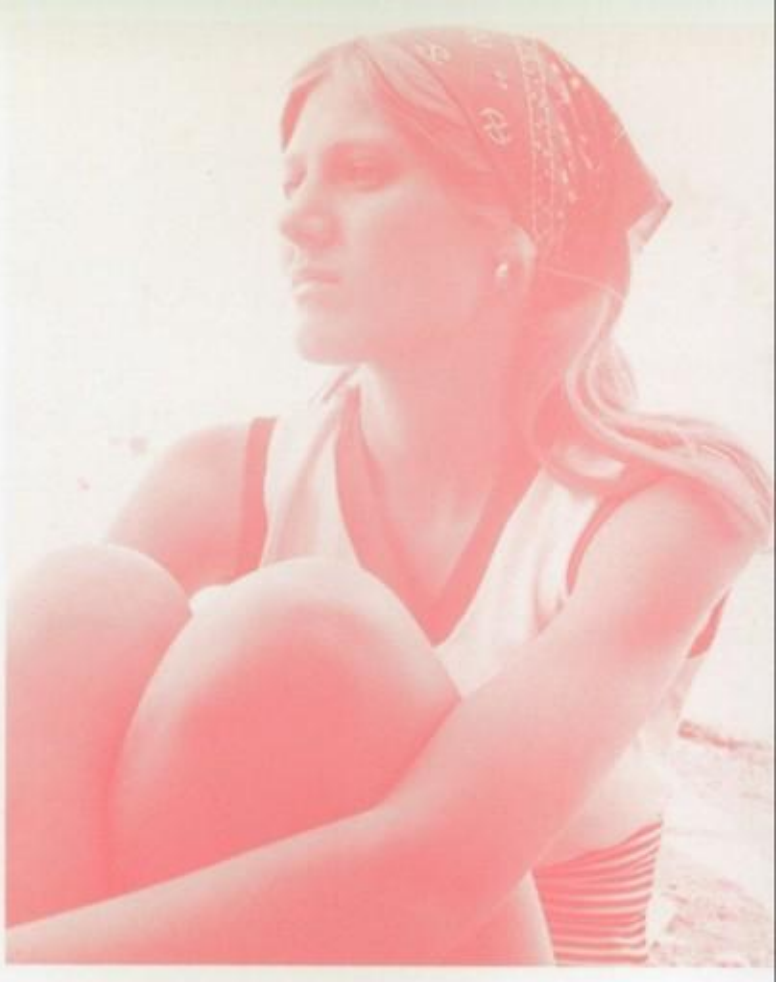
Being the Bicentennial Class made us aware of our heritage and future responsibilities. Even through our differences we have unity that other classes have lacked because of our common pride in graduating on the 200th birthday of our country.



This uniqueness in a graduating class has been brought about by the sudden emphasis on our heritage. Even though we realize that these differences will never be completely resolved, we have learned that they can be overcome by working together for a common goal.

THE MODERN EXPLORER

In looking back, modern man is apt to think he missed out on a glorious era--a time when daring souls sailed forth . . . found new lands . . . and set feet for the first time on trackless shores . . . The today person may opine that the great adventure is over . . . there seem no regions left to discover . . . no new frontiers . . . Not so.

Every one of us has in him a continent of undiscovered character. Blessed is he who acts the Columbus to his own soul . . . Well then, our great adventure is just beginning!

The only life worth living is the adventurous life. Of such a life the dominant characteristic is that it is unafraid. It is unafraid of what other people think. Like Columbus, it dares not only to assert a belief but to live it in the face of contrary opinion. It does not adapt either its pace or its objectives to the pace and objectives of its neighbors. It thinks its own thoughts, it reads its own books, it develops its own hobbies, and it is governed by its own code of conscience. The herd may graze where it pleases or stampede where it pleases, but he who lives the adventurous life will remain unafraid when he finds himself alone. The challenge of adventure is still very much open to you . . . to me . . . to everyone!

We often think of ourselves as living in a world which no longer has any unexplored frontiers. We speak of pioneering as a thing of the past. But in doing so we forget that the greatest adventure of all still challenges us--what Mr. Justice Holmes called "the adventure of the human mind." Men nay be hemmed in geographically, but every generation stands on the frontiers of the mind. In the world of ideas, there is always pioneering to be done, and it can be done by anyone who will use the equipment with which he is endowed. The great ideas belong to every one. Obviously, the times when a Columbus could sail forth and came upon a new continent are over . . But the days of adventure . . . of discovery . . . of new frontiers . . . these are ours . . . forever.

WOMEN

International Women' Year . . . "Ms." became an accepted form of address. Women were ordained as priests in Episcopalian churches although this action was not considered "legal" in the eyes of the church . . . Politics became heavily populated by women. There were 610 women in state legislatures, 93 women mayors of cities with populations of over 30,000, and 18 women were elected to Congress (all members of the House). Only one woman held the prestigious position of govemor: Ella Grasso from Connecticut . . . Karen Quinlan, 21, became the subject of a momentous court case over the right to die. Karen slipped into a coma in April and had been kept alive only through the use of a respirator. Her parents were asking to be allowed to disconnect the machine. The court ruled they could not . . . Two women earned the dubious honor of being the only women to attempt the assassination of a U.S. President. One was Lynette "Squeaky" Fromme, a member of the Manson cult, who pointed a revolver at President Ford in Sacramento, Calif. Her self-proclaimed motive was a new trial for aforementioned convicted murderer, Charles Manson. The gun failed to go off and Fromme was arrested. The second was Sara Jane "Sally" Moore, an FBI informant whose shot was deflected a mere 5 ft. away from the President by Oliver Sipple, a disabled veteran. The bullet ricocheted off the building behind Ford and slightly injured a cab driver. Both Fromme and Moore were found guilty of attempted assassination and sentenced to life imprisonment . . . Two other influential women, Indira Gandhi, the prime minister of India, and Isabel Peron, president of Argentina continued to hold their ground in international politics. . . . Mother Elizabeth Seton became the first native-born U.S. citizen to be designated as a saint. Mother Seton was canonized by Pope Paul VI for her formation of the Sisters of Charity, the first American order of nuns and her founding of the first parochial school on the U.S. among other accomplishments.

"A handshake in space" . . . The Apollo-Soyuz mission momentarily bridged the gap between Russia and the U.S. The astronauts were Slayton, Stafford and Brandt, the cosmonauts Kubasov and Leonov . . . South Vietnam's president Nguyen Van Thieu made perhaps "the decision" of 1975. He ordered the strategic removal of troops from the North to reinforce Saigon and the Mekong Delta. They were quickly replaced by Communist forces. Thousands of refugees, mostly children, began to pour into the U.S. in order to escape the Red terror. Saigon fell and South Vietnam was overtaken. The war was over and we had lost . . . Conflicts continued to rage in Northern Ireland, the Middle East and Portugal . . . In Africa, King Hussan of Morocco ordered the "Green March." One hundred thousand marchers invaded the Spanish Sahara in an attempt to annex the colony. The Moroccans were stopped shortly after entry by a mine field but Spain agreed to withdraw its troops and leave the land to Morocco, Mauritania, and Algeria . . . Again in Africa, Angola achieved independence from Portugal and became immediately involved in a three-way civil war. The three groups fighting for power were the M.P.L.A. (Soviet-backed), the F.N.L.A. (backed by Zaire, France, and the U.S.), and UNITA (Portuguese-backed) . . . The U.S. was host to the Emperor of Japan, Hirohito and Empress Nagako. Also, Mohammed Reza Pahlavi, the Shah of Iran and Empress Farrah made a visit to America . . . Two U.S. Navy ships, the U.S.S. John F. Kennedy and the U.S.S. Belknap collided in the Mediterranean east of Sicily. Seven men died and 50 were injured.

KIDNAPPING

Patricia Hearst . . . She was kidnapped on Feb. 4, 1974 by the SLA. As ransom, Patty's father, Randolph Hearst, former editor and publisher of the San Francisco Examiner, set up a free food program for the poor in that city. Although Mr. Hearst kept his end of the deal, worth $2 million, all the Hearsts recieved was a tape recording from Patty stating "I have chosen to stay and fight." Soon after, Patty made her first appearance, as an armed bank robber filmed in action by a hidden camera. Her status promptly changed. She was no longer a kidnap victim but a wanted criminal. She changed her name to "Tania" and the country observed her alleged brainwashing. Patty was finally arrested after 19 1/2 months of searching by the FBI. She has been judged mentally able to stand trial but at this writing it had not yet begun . . . Samuel Bronfman II, heir to the Seagram's liquor fortune was abducted and as ransom the kidnappers demanded $4.6 million in cash. This sum was then cut in half because it was too "bulky." The Bronfmans delivered it!! After 8 days of waiting the New York police raided a Brooklyn apartment and found Bronfman, still alive. Two men were arrested and the ransom recovered . . . Another victim, Peter Lorenz, chairman of West Berlin's Christian Democratic Union, was kidnapped in West Germany. He was as held for 6 days by leftist terrorists and only released after officials freed 6 political prisoners. One of these opted to remain in jail stating that random violence would not achieve their purposes.

NATIONAL

Battle Over Busing . . . Ever since the Supreme Court ordered school busing to achieve racial desegregation, violent protest erupted on the part of many parents. In South Boston, anti-busing demonstrations resulted in untold property damage to schools and buses and so many personal attacks on students that the National Guard was called in to restore order. It continued to be an uneasy peace but the ruling stood . . . In New York City, the big question was one of default. Deficit spending had put NYC in such financial straits that Mayor Abe Beame asked the federal govemment for help. The issue was debated and the aid was given. . . President Ford had another close call although not an attempt on his life when the limosine he was riding in was struck by another car. The Presidential motorcade does not stop for red lights and James Salamite (operator of the other vehicle) was proceeding on a green light when the crash occurred. There were no injuries . . . The killings at Kent State were briefly revisited when a civil suit was filed by the victims' parents. The suit was denied . . . William Orville Douglas, 77, retired from the Supreme Court after almost 37 years of service because of a health problem.

SHOW BUSINESS

Academy Awards . . . Oscars for Best Actress and Best Actor went to Ellen Burstyn (ALICE DOESN'T LIVE HERE ANYMORE) and Art Carney (HARRY AND TONTO) respectively . . . JAWS gripped America, first as a book written by Peter Benchley and then as a technological masterpiece using 3 replicas of great white sharks for the filming . . . There were sequels galore--WALKING TALL PART II, THE TRIAL OF BILLY JACK, GODFATHER II, and FUNNY LADY . . . TOMMY rocked with Elton John, Ann-Margret, and Roger Daltrey . . . Dance came back big with the bump and the hustle . . . The Bay City Roller were a new phenomenon from Scotland, After all, who didn't cheer for S-A-T-U-R-D-A-Y NIGHT? . . . Neil Sedaka was definitely back . . . Cher obtained a divorce from Sonny and quickly married Gregg Allman. She again filed for divorce, after 9 days, but things were straightened out and she was soon expecting a sibling for Chastity . . . Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton remarried after their year-long divorce. Liz said, "We just can't stay away from each other."

SPORTS

World Series . . . The Cincinnati Reds won while the Boston Red Socks came out on the losing end. Pete Rose was the Most Valuable Plauer . . . In the Superbowl the Pittsburgh Steelers were victorious over the Minnesota Vikings . . . The World Football League didn't fare very well. The League dissolved leaving its mambers jobless and legally entangled . . . Muhammed Ali retained the heavyweight boxing championship by defeating Joe Frazier at "the thrilla in Manila" . . . In horseracing the "Battle of the Sexes" ended in tragedy. Ruffian, the filly, broke her ankle in the race against Foolish Pleasure. Efforts to save her were not successful . . . U.S. oarwomen won second place in the World Championships and were on their way to the Olympics.

FASHION

Fads . . . toe socks . . . hooded sweaters . . . string bikinis . . . puka shells . . . vested suits . . . coveralls . . . platform shoes . . . leisure suits.

DEATHS

General Francisco Franco, 82, of Spain died after suffering ennumerable heart attacks. Franco named Prince Juan Carlos as the successor to his dictatorship of 36 years. Prior to his death in a last show of power Spain brought world-wide criticism upon itself when the Franco regime carried out the firing squad executions fo 5 terrorists all convicted of killing policemen . . . Saudi Arabia's King Faisal was shot and killed by his nephew. Prince Faisal was publicly beheaded according to Arabian justice, "a soul for a soul" . . . Chiang Kai-shek, 87, President of the Republic of China died of natural causes. He stated his life and nation's purpose as recovery of the mainland . . . Aristotle Onassis, 69, Greek shipping magnate, passed away after an extended illness. His death left Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis a widow for her second time . . . Arthur Treacher, 81, died of heart disease. The archetype snotty butler, he is now know best for his fish and chips . . . Jack Benny, etemally 39 but really 80 died of cancer. WELL! (hand on chin).

DEDICATION

IN COUNTY SCHOOLS SHIFTS—

Howard H. Dennison, (left), and Charles E. LeMasters, (right), were named to new county school positions. Dennison has been appointed assistant superintendent of schools succeeding Maurice E. Kolpien who had previously been chosen superintendent. LeMasters has been selected as supervisor of Millcreek schools following Dennison.

Name C.E. LeMasters Millcreek Principal

Social Science Teacher at High School to Succeed H. H. Dennison Appointed to County Post

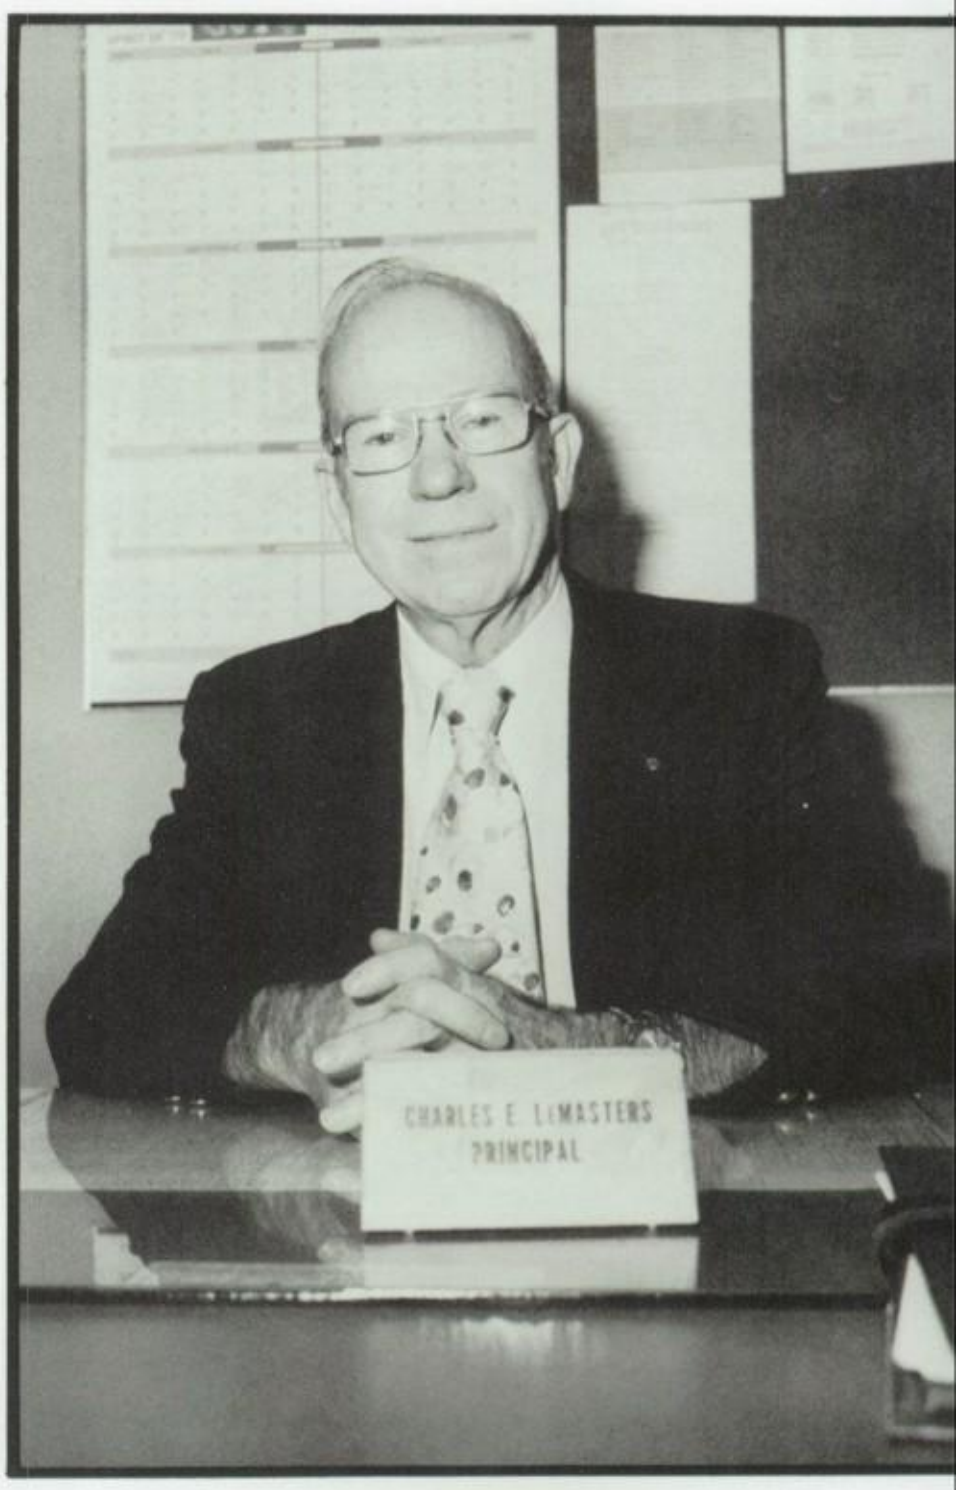
THE Millcreek township school board Wednesday announced the appointment of Charles E. LeMasters, thirty, 3937 Ridge rd., as supervising principal of all Millcreek township schools.

He succeeds Howard H. Denison who was appointed assistant superintendent of Erie county schools by the county school board on Tuesday.

Mr. LeMasters appointment is for the remainder of the current school year, it was said.

He is a graduate of Dennison University and attended Colgate Rochester Divinity school. He also attended Bowling Green university and is now working for his master's degree at the University of Pittsburgh.

The new supervising principal has been teaching social science at Millcreek High school since 1970.



PRINCIPAL CHARLES E. LEMASTERS

A man's life's work cannot easily or adequately be summarized by a few short lines. What McDowell High School is and has been for the past twenty-four years is due to the dedication and leadership of one man. The task of a principal is an important and sometimes lonely one. It is our intention, as we leave McDowell High School, to honor its principal, who will leave with us. We leave behind our friends, our memories, and our teachers who have guided us these last two years. This man leaves behind his own legacy, filled with memories of past achievements.

We, the Kaldron staff of McDowell High School, are honored to be able to dedicate the 1976 Kaldron to its principal, Charles E. LeMasters. It is our hope that this, his last year, was his best.

It Has Been Observed . . .
Happy
Birthday
Mr. LeMasters

"Nothing . . . memorable ever passes . . . for in memory the past is ever present."

IN RECOGNITION

Dr. John S. Sandel, superintendent of Millcreek schools, is retiring July 1, 1976. Dr. Sandel has spent 38 years in public education in Pennsylvania, the last 10 years and 5 months as superintendent of Millcreek schools. During his administration, approximately $21 million was spent on school construction. The Millcreek Education Center (1970), Grandview Elementary School (1972), and Millcreek Intermediat High School (1973) were built entirely within his adminstration. Various improvements also took place during this period: occupancy of James S. Wilson Junior High School (1967), Asbury Elementary school addition (1966), Chestnut Hill Elementary School addition (1968), Westlake Junior High School addition (1970), and renovations at Ridgefield and Vernondale Elementary Schools (1971). Much progress was also made in the areas of curriculum, public relations, and business relations.

Dr. Sandel served as assistant superintendent of Schools in Bethlehem, Pa. before coming to Millcreek. He holds B. A., M. Ed, and Ed. D. degrees from Pennsylvania State University. He has been active in community affairs and is presently a member of the Erie Rotary Club. He served as president of the Bethlehem Rotary Club, and has been on the Board of the United Way of Erie County since 1967, taking an active part in several annual campaigns.

The students and the staff of McDowell High School are grateful to Dr. Sandel, and wish him the best in his retirement.

KEYSTONE STATE

This year's representatives to Girls State were Julie Freeland and Kim Stroup. It is sponsored as a Public service to the community, state, and nation by the members of the American Legion Auxiliary, Department of Pennsyvania. The purpose of Girls State is to instruct youth in the duties, privileges and rights of American citizenship. The American Legion Auxiliary believes that from active individual participation in governmental affairs of a mythical state will come a broader understanding of the responsibilities of citizenship in a democracy and a deeper appreciation for its great privileges.

AFS STUDENT

Before I left to come to the United States, I was often asked why I wanted to come here of all places. I replied that I wanted to find out about the United States for myself, not through prejudiced, second-hand information. I have found many things I like about the United States, and some things I don't like as much, but one of the many things I have learned this year is that differences are not necessarily bad, just . . . different, and often interesting. By trying to understand these differences, you help to make the world a little smaller, and a friendlier place in which to live.

My senior year at McDowell has been a very great and important part of my total experience, and I will treasure my memories of teachers, friends, activities, and achievements here. This year has added a great deal to my life, and I hope I have been able to give something to others, and to have shared a little about Australia too!

Best Wishes,

1975 HOMECOMING

On the drizzly night of September 26th, Miss Sandy Sesler was crowned as the 1975 Homecoming Queen by her escort, Mark Blackburn. The event was a spectacular addition to the exciting game against Indiana. As Homecoming Queen, Sandy was cheering for the Trojans sitting down instead of her usual energetic role as captain of the cheerleaders. The Trojans went on to win with the close score of 6-2.

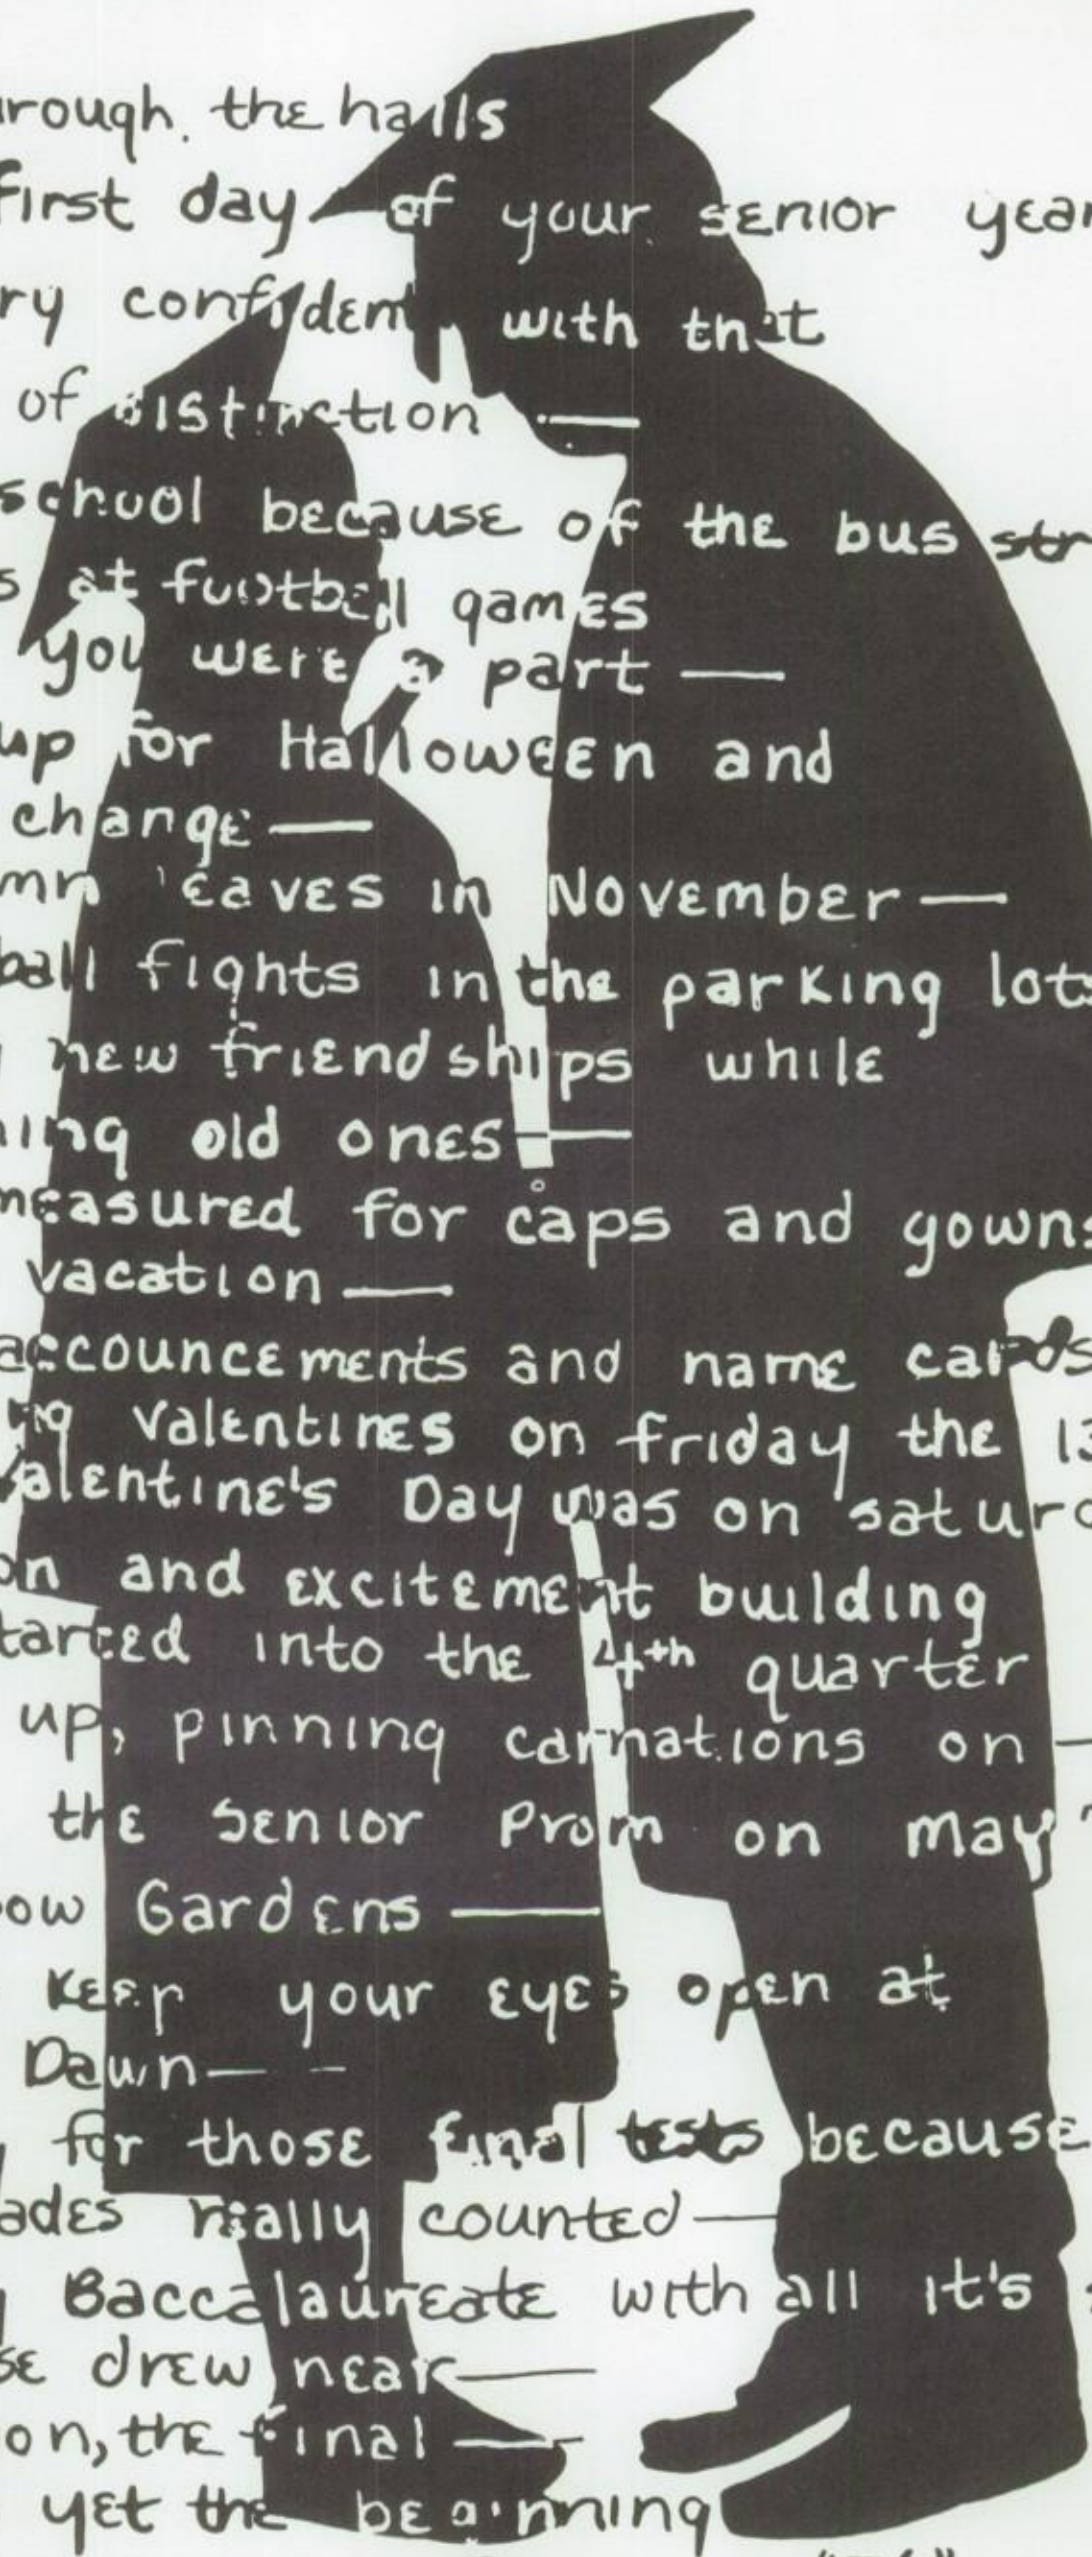
Remember



Walking through the halls
the very first day of your senior year, feeling very confident with that inner glow of distinction —
driving to school because of the bus strike —
the crowds at football games of which you were a part — dressing up for Halloween and having to change —
the Autumn leaves in November —
the snowball fights in the parking lots — establishing new friendships while strengthening old ones —
getting measured for caps and gowns —
Christmas vacation —
ordering announcements and name cards —
distributing Valentines on friday the 13th because Valentine's Day was on saturday —
the tension and excitement building
as you started into the 4th quarter dressing up, pinning carnations on — enjoying the Senior Prom on May 7th
at Rainbow Gardens —
trying to keep your eyes open at Prom to Dawn — —
cramming for those final tests because those grades really counted —
attending Baccalaureate with all it's solemnity
as the close drew near — graduation, the final —
the end, yet the beginning because you were a Senior in "76."

we're all you'll ever need...

. . . and these are only a few of the types of insurance that we write for our clients

Personal Lines Dept.	Commercial Lines Dept.	Life Insurance Dept.
Homeowners	Fidelity & Surety Bonds	Individual Life Policies
Automobile	Package Policies	Individual Accident & Health
Jewelry & Furs	Liability	Group Life
Yachts	Workmen's Compensation	Group Accident & Health
Sail & Motor Boats	Robbery & Theft	Annuity
Fine Arts	Boiler & Machinery	Pension Plans

We have many other kinds of insurance even for those unique situations. Also lots of "back up" services you probably could be using but simply are not aware of. So let's get together . . . we want to show you we really are "all you'll ever need".

Mrs. Davis,
To a really nice
person, who always
let us come in her office during study hall. Always remember the time we had
that party in your office.
Remember all the times we used to come in and just sit there and talk to you! Good luck and maybe we come back and see you.

Love,

Mrs. Davis
To a very good counselor. Did the best we could to make your office run smooth
while you were gone.
I was always glad to get out of class. Don't forget me. Remember the parties we had
and remember to come visit us
sometime.

Love,
Patti
